to the workshop

Stories of past in education. Ideation workshop

The Forum Institute (SK) and the Sigmund Freud University (AT) search for ways to utilise collections of oral history stories in educational programs.

General objective of the Learning for Peace project is to streamline stories from the past into educational programs with the aim of empowering people to look more critically at history and thus the current populist, aggressive political trends, which have been proven in the past to push societies into war and economic crisis. We aim to utilise discourses of traumatic past in education for avoiding conflicts in the future. Results of the project will be recommendations for educators for using stories recorded about past conflicts.

The first major project event took place on 23rd March 2023 at SFU Vienna. It hosted international experts from the fields of psychotherapy science, psychology, social sciences and history. The main focus of the workshop was on collecting and evaluating best practices on trauma narration, processing and education.

On September 14th, 2023

in the premises of the Museum of Culture of Hungarians in Slovakia

Brämerova kúria, Žižkova ul. 18 \(entry from Žižkova ul. 16\)

we are organising our second workshop aiming to formulate recommendations of concrete programmes / activities for education programmes. Therefore, we are inviting experts, pedagogues, and students as well.

After this workshop, experts of SFU and Forum Institute will process the gathered information and formulate the project recommendations. The final version will be available on the project partners' websites.
